Two of our missionaries, were involved with motorbike accidents.

- Sunny Maida was involved in a motorcycle accident with tractor and escaped with minor injuries with a fracture to his hands. He is safe. The motorcycle is damaged, but insured for repair and replacement.
- Last month Suresh Mahile was also involved in an accident and had his leg fractured, but recovered well. We thank our Lord for saving our workers with minor injuries.

The team on the ground prays for the safety of the workers every morning God in His mercy helped on several occasions for our workers and family to escape with minor injuries. A collision with tractor and trucks can easily end up in death or major injuries for motorcyclists.

Please thank God for his safekeeping and continue to pray that the G.O.S.P.E.L. work will not be disrupted through physical injuries.

Dear congregation,

At the end of this year, several leaders from URY will be finishing their roles as they move into different church ministry areas. As a result, there is an urgent need for new volunteers to give a little bit of their time on Tuesday nights to help minister to youth from both our church and the local community. Any help that you can offer in 2013 will be greatly appreciated! If you are interested, please contact Lynette on 0423 889 912.

Felix Johnson, pastor of the Free Methodist Church in Union City, Michigan, stopped in a pet shop to buy a parrot. "But I don't want one that swears," he explained to the shopkeeper.

"I've got just the bird for you!" said the shopkeeper, Mel Lundy.

Lundy took Pastor Johnson into a back room where the parrot was perched, with a string on each foot.

Lundy pulled the string on the right foot and the bird recited the Lord's Prayer.

Then Lundy pulled the string on the left foot and the parrot burst into "Nearer My God to Thee."

"This is wonderful," said Pastor Johnson. "What would happen if I pulled both strings at the same time?"

"You idiot," squawked the parrot, "I'd fall on my keister."

"I tell you what I'm going to do," said Wayne to his friend Frank. "For a hundred dollars, I'm going to sell you an elephant. What do you think about that?"

"I think it sounds crazy," Frank replied. "I don't want an elephant. I don't even like elephants."

"Don't be so stubborn," Wayne said. "This is a deal I'm offering you; a full-grown elephant for just one hundred dollars."

Frank protested, "But I don't want a full-grown elephant for no hundred dollars. For one thing, where would I keep it? And the mess they make. No, sir. Count me out. An elephant I do not need."

Wayne eyed his friend closely. "Tell you what I'll do. For a hundred and fifty dollars, I'll get you two elephants!"

Frank said, "Now you're talking!"

A father took his son deer hunting. After they were deep in the forests, the father said, "We'll do better if we split up. You stay here by the tree. If you see a deer, shoot it."

The son, who had never hunted deer before, asked, "What does a deer look like?"

The father answered, "It has four legs, is brown and has long ears." Before leaving, the father added, "Just one more thing. There are poachers in these woods. If one tries to get your deer, just hold him at gunpoint until I return."

A short time later, the father heard a gun shot. He ran toward the spot where he had left his son. As his son came into view, he saw the boy pointing a gun at a man, who had his hands in the air. As he got closer, he heard the man say, "All right, son, it's your deer. Just let me get the saddle off of it."
